4. OCI memo on Situation in Burma indicating that Ne Win and the extreme wing of the Union Revolutionary Council appear to have control of the government. (OCI No. 1270)

5. OCI Memo on Situation in Portugal indicating it is likely that Salazar will remain in control at least through 1962. (OCI No. 1269)

6. ONE memo suggests that the 6 May attack by Communist forces on Nam Tha, a provincial capital in northern Laos, was calculated to undercut Phoumi's position, further demoralize the Laotian and government, and, perhaps, cause the US to increase its pressures on Phoumi. (ER 3011)

7. ONE Estimate that the India/ChiCom boarder dispute will not likely result in major military escalation even though both sides have committed their prestige making small-scale clashes likely and making it harder for either side to back down.
